The Paulding Goes Ashore, But Is Later Floated Safely.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 8.—The United States torpede boat destroyer Terry, which became disabled in a storm between New York and Bermuda, is safe. A wireless dispatch received at the Norfolk navy pard this afternoon said Norfolk navy yard this afternoon said the Terry was proceeding under her own steam for the Virginia capes and should arrive in Hompton Roads tonight. The scout croiser Salem, which also was sufficied by the heavy seas, will reach Hampton Roads tonight. She went in search of the Terry.

The destroyer which went ashore at St. Georges was the Paulding. She has since been reflected and will proceed to the dockyard under her own steam.

Three vessels of the torpedo flotilia are still unaccounted for—the Mayrant, Drayton and McCaw. Drayton and McCaw,

"The purpose of these papers is not so much to show the existence of a pool
as to show that the pool was continued through the National Packing company after its organization in 1903. In regard to the two letters the witness does not swear whose handwriting it is.
He has an opinion who wrote the figures, but that opinion was obtained in the ordinary course of business.

"His opinion cannot go in the records
under these circumstances."
Jerome H. Prait, recalled and questioned by district attorney James H.
Wilkerson today, said that after the issuance of judge Grosscup's injunction in 1907 restraining the packers held their meetings to fix prices and apportion business at the homes of the members.

The witness described in detail the

members.

The witness described in detail the method of making shipments to branch houses. The district and branch house managers, he said, recoived instructions in regard to the margin price to be charged at the time shipments were made. These margins and shipment percentages, the witness said, were based on the agreement reached at the packers' meetings.
